WILLIS, ROGAN ARE INDIVIDUAL STARS

Outcome Of Meet Uncertain
Until Clean Sweep Made
Of Last Two Events

Amassing a total of 20 points to carry away individual honors of the day, Captain Ben Willis led the track team to their third straight win of the season when the Wildcats defeated the University of Tennessee thirties by a score of 70 to 47 Saturday afternoon on the Stoll field track.

Their victory marked the first time in four years that the 'Cats have been able to defeat the Vols on the cinder path and also kept the record of Coach C. F. Striplin, who is serving his first year as mentor for the 'Cats, clean of any defeats for the year.

The outcome of the meet was uncertain until the last two events when the Wildcats jumping stars made clean sweeps of both the high and broad jumps. The wearers of the Blue and White also took both first and second place in the mile and half mile runs and the discus throws. The Vols shut out Kentucky's entries in the quarter mile run, the pole vault, and the shot put.

Kentucky's two great runners, Willis and Dave Rogan, capitalized on the day's events; Willis winning the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, and both hurdle events, while Dave won the two mile and half mile runs and placed second in the mile. He could have easily won the mile also, but slowed on the last lap when it was certain that no Tennessee runner could pass him and allowed teammate Hellard to break the tape.

Simpson, who is improving his throws with every meet, won the javelin in easy style with a toss of 184 feet 3 inches, and immediately after the event was over threw it 189 feet to brighten Coach Striplin's hope that "Red" would be able to take this event in the Southern meet which will be held next week in Birmingham. On his first jump Carlisle leaped the winning distance of 22 feet 3 inches and then rested until his last jump as this mark was never threatened. No records were seriously threatened during the meet but the Volunteer mile relay team stepped off (Continued on Page Four)

ARE INSTALLED

YWCA Senior Cabinet, Sophomore Commission, Junior Round Table And Advisory Board Introduced

Installation services for new officers and members of the Y. W. C. A. Senior Cabinet were held last night in Patterson hall, conducted by the retiring officers. Newly elected members of the Junior Round Table, the Sophomore Commission, and the Advisory Board were introduced to the Association. Opening with a harp prelude by Virginia Rich, the program included choral singing by Elizabeth Tillet, Susan White, Marjorie Jenkins, Virginia Tharp, Martha Moore, Rosetta Sexton, and Muriel Rasmussen, and an invocation by Dorothy Whalen, retiring president.

Installation of Ann Lang, Margaret Markley, Sue D. Sparks, and Margaret Redmond, as new officers of the Y. W. C. A. followed. Dorothy Clements, retiring chairman of the Sophomore Commission, introduced the new members, and Frances Sadler, retiring chairman of the Junior Round Table, introduced the new members of that group.

Plans For West Unit
Await PWA Approval

Plans for the University's new $65,000 west unit of the engineering quadrangle will be completed and sent to Louisville tomorrow for final approval of Public Works Administration. It was announced yesterday.

This structure, the completing unit of the quadrangle, will house the mechanical and electrical engineering laboratories, the college's classrooms, the metallurgical laboratories, the crystallography and X-ray laboratories, and other necessary offices and rooms.

MISS TABB SLATED TO TALK BEFORE YW GROUP

Miss Hermene Tabb, of the Lexington Family Welfare society, will speak to members of the Y. W. C. A. social service group at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the Woman's building. The topic of her address is "Social Problems of the Negro in Lexington." Members will hold a discussion following the speech, to which all Y. W. C. A. members are invited.

Lexington Soprano To Give
Recital At Henry Clay
May 12

A recital by Mary Louise McKenna, Lexington soprano, under the auspices of the Musical Scholarship association of Lexington, will be given at 8 o'clock Wednesday, May 12, at the Henry Clay high school auditorium, the proceeds of which will be used to give Miss McKenna a year's course of study at some nationally known school of music. Accompanying Miss McKenna on the program will be Paul McIntire, Wilmore, violinist, and Alice Robertson, Lexington, pianist, both of whom are well-known Central Kentucky musicians. The University of Kentucky staff orchestra, under the direction of Elmer Sulzer, director of the University radio studios, will accompany Miss McKenna in a group of light opera numbers.

The program is as follows: Miss McKenna will sing three selections, "Ah, Je Veux Vivre," from "Roméo et Juliet," by Gounod, "Connais Tu Le Pays?" from "Mignon," by Thomas, and Musetta's valse songs "As Thro' the Street," from "La Bohème," by Puccini, followed by three selections from Mr. McIntire, "Allegro" from "Albionville Suite," "Sitt," and "Ave Maria," by Schubert-Wilhelmj.

"Mountains," by Rasback, "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," by Charles, "A Benediction," by Edwards, and "Happy Song" by del Riego, all sung by Miss McKenna, will conclude the first half of the program.

Following the intermission, the program will include "Reflections in the Water," by Debussy, played by Miss Robertson, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Will You Remember?" by Miss McKenna and the University orchestra.

YEAR CONTRACT
OFFERED TO RUPP

No Announcement Has Been Made Either By Athletic
Council Or Rupp As To Acceptance Or Rejection

Coach Adolph Rupp, for the past seven years mentor of Wildcat basketball teams, was offered Friday a one-year renewal of his contract with the University. The announcement was made after the meeting of the athletic council on Friday, but no announcement has been made as yet of the acceptance or rejection of the contract.

Coming to the University in 1930, Coach Rupp succeeded Johnny Mauer as mentor of basketball. He is considered one of the "Big Three" of basketball, the other two being Coach Nat Holman of the City College of New York, and Dr. Forest Allen of the University of Kansas, under whom Coach Rupp has served.

Since his arrival at the University seven years ago, Coach Rupp's teams have won 122 games, while suffering the small loss of 21 games. Under his tutelage, the 'Cats have won two conference tournaments and finished first in the conference standing six times. Several All-Southern, All-Southeastern, and All-American performers have been developed by him, notably Ellis Johnson, Carey Spicer, George Yates, John DeMolsey, Forrest Sale, Bill Davis, Dave Lawrence, Leroy Edwards, Ralph Carlisle, and Warfield Donohue.

In 1930, when Coach Rupp came to the University, he was given a two-year contract. When this expired, he accepted another two-year agreement. At its expiration, he was given a one-year contract. The third two-year contract accepted by Coach Rupp expired Friday. When questioned as to whether or not he had accepted the contract, Coach Rupp would make no statement.

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, chairman of the athletic council, declared that the University had adopted the policy of electing all their coaches from year to year, and that one-year contracts would be given to each coach. This rule has been adopted since Coach Rupp accepted his last contract.

Extension Division
Judge 4-H Contests

Four members of the home demonstration department of the extension division acted as judges for the annual Spring Rally Day in the contest and exhibits, Friday at the Madison high school, Richmond.

The winners of the various events will represent Madison county at the annual Junior Week here, June 7 to 12.

The judges were: Edith Lacy, Anita Burman, and H. C. Brown, state 4-H club department, and Lullie Logan, assistant leader of the home demonstration department.

Governor Chandler Asks For
Everyone Towards Making
University Grow

PSYCHOLOGY CLINIC
MAY BE FOUNDED

First Student To Receive
Degree In Engineering
Makes Speech

"We are going to do everything within our power to make the University grow and prosper and we want the continued cooperation of everyone connected with it in everything we are doing," Gov. A. B. Chandler told the assemblage of more than 250 persons who attended the banquet in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the College of Engineering, Friday night at the Lafayette hotel.

In connection with the $1,500,000 building program now in progress on the campus, the governor said he hoped soon to establish a diagnostic clinic of psychiatry under University auspices. This would be the first of its kind in the state.

"Many University men have had a part in the work that has been accomplished, and for that reason I am proud to be a son of the University," the governor declared. "I am more than delighted with the help University graduates are giving this administration," he added.

Governor Chandler was introduced by James E. Adams, of the class of 1937 of the College of Engineering, who presided.

The banquet followed a day of celebration of the college's founding in 1887, when a degree in civil engineering was the only course in the curriculum. John Gunn, Lexington, of the class of 1890, and the first to receive a degree in this course, was introduced last night to those present, as was Col. J. R. Johnson, Lexington, an instructor in the college and a member of the class of 1893, the first person to receive a degree in mechanical engineering.

Four other speakers on the program were L. K. Frankel, Lexington engineer, of the class of 1900, who spoke on "The History of the College of Engineering"; George H. Sager, Jr., Frankfort, state engineer of the Works Progress Administration, who spoke on "Public Works Administration Program in Kentucky"; Thomas H. Cutler, Frankfort, state highway engineer, who spoke on "Kentucky Highway Planning"; and Paul E. Brammer, of the class of 1937, who expressed the class' appreciation to the more than 100 alumni who attended the celebration, and the faculty members who made the program possible.

F. C. Dugan, president of the Kentucky section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the organization that sponsored the banquet, presented the first annual award of the society to Mr. Adams, president of the University student section of the A. S. C. E. The award was a junior membership button and a junior membership, good for one year. It was presented for Adams' outstanding scholastic, social, and activity achievements.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, Keen Johnson, lieutenant-governor, and the various alumni who attended the celebration were guests of honor at the banquet. Miss Mary Louise McKenna, Lexington singer, and the University string trio presented several selections as the entertainment feature of the dinner.

Eight Students
Slated To Present
Musical Concert

Tomorrow Mrs. L. L. Dantzer's Pupils Will Sing And Play In Memorial Hall

Music students of the department of music, under the direction of Mrs. L. L. Dantzer, will present a concert at 4 p. m. tomorrow in Memorial hall.

The opening recital of the program will be a piano presentation of Bach's "Bourée in G Minor" by E. C. Wootton. Dolores Collins will sing "Bondage" by Marguerite Test and "The Valley of Laughter" by Sanderson. Inez Hawkins will play on the piano "The Harmonica Player" by Gulon.

After these pieces will follow "Thou Art Like a Flower" by Rubenstein and "Come Sweet Morning (Old French)" which will be sung by Ruth Gay with Elizabeth Tillet as accompanist.

Songs then will be presented by Imogene Kruse, who will sing Debussy's "Danseuses de Delphes"; Joyce Crim, Thomas' "Connais-tu Le Pays (from Mignon)," and Marie Quisenberry, who will sing "The Witches Dance" by MacDowell. Susan Price will close the program, singing "Thanks Be To God" by Dickson and "The Winds in the South" by John Prindle Scott. Ruth Eton will accompany the singers at the piano.

Chi Omega Dorothy Nichols Elected
May Queen In Close Ballot Battle;
Faction Tiff Wrecks Friday Poll

Rampant Disagreement Follows
Watkins-Butler Discovery Of New Six-Vote Provision

DEAN JONES QUIETS
BRAWLING POLITICIANS

Independents Compelled To Add Five Candidates
To Entry List

Misinformation on the part of Reynolds Watkins and Richard Butler, Independent combine leaders, and a misunderstanding between them and the Fraternity clique midst typical campus political confusion culminated in postponement of the 14th annual May Queen election from Friday until yesterday.

Trouble started when Watkins and Butler entered the basement of the Administration building and discovered that each voter was to select six candidates instead of one as was the custom in previous May Queen contests.

Under the vote-for-six ruling the Independent combine was compelled to vote for its sole candidate and for five of the Fraternity machine's roster.

Sensing defeat Butler contacted Laban Jackson, president of the Men's Student Council, and demanded an explanation of the vote-for-six innovation.

Jackson informed Butler that at Wednesday's council meeting, which Butler did not attend, the council had decided each voter would check six names. Of this new measure, the I. C. men say they were ignorant.

Hence, when Queen petitions were circulated the Independent band resolved to consolidate its votes into one candidate, Butler. But under the provisions of the new law, I. C. voters were forced to check five names in addition to Miss Farmer's.

Exclaiming that "The Independent combine elected me president of the senior class and I'm going to do everything in my power to see that they get the May Queen," Butler went into Dean Jones' office and presented the situation.

The Dean advised that the ballot being thrown out, that the political chieftains come to an agreement and plan another election early next week.

Spurred by the Dean's suggestion, council prexy Jackson ruled Friday's polling illegal, ordered the independents to nominate five additional Queen aspirants, and announced that another election would be held Monday morning.

TEAM IS WINNER
IN TWO MATCHES

Two Matches Are Rained Out
On Southern Trip; Wins
Are Registered Over Tennessee And Sewanee

Returning home Sunday from a five-day tour of the South in which they registered two victories without defeat, the University tennis team will begin practice this afternoon in preparation for matches with Michigan State and Notre Dame Friday and Saturday.

Even though only two of the four scheduled matches were played the trip was a success when you consider the men whom the 'Cats defeated. The University of Tennessee, which they triumphed over 7-2 had a fairly strong team and the University of the South had won 14 matches in 15 until they met the Kentuckians. Sewanee's racquet-players had beaten the Wildcats 5-1 here at Lexington a week previous.

The other two matches that were scheduled were unable to be played due to the rain which seemed to follow the Wildcats where ever they went. The two matches that were played in the worst of conditions with the courts wet from showers. Considering the weather handicaps under which they had to play the Blue Grass boys acquitted themselves very well.

Bob Evans showed a return to form on the trip and looked like the Evans of last year. Donohue played very good tennis as did Englehardt. Francis Montgomery. (Continued on Page Four)

Senior invitations may now be obtained at the University Book Store, James E. Morris, manager of the store, announced yesterday.

Mr. Morris urges all seniors to procure their invitations immediately because the supply is limited.

Campus Politics
and
Men's Student Council

AN EDITORIAL

It is The Kernel's belief that the Men's Student Council was established to regulate and to control student life on this campus. To keep elections free from biased politics was to be among its chief functions. But Friday's postponement of May Queen election has disclosed that the Council is not keeping politics out of campus elections, but that politics is centered within the Council itself.

The Council met prior to the election, approved petitions, and established a method of election. This method assured the Fraternity Combine victory. The Independent Combine, because of its own negligence, was not represented at this meeting.

Friday morning, with voting already under way, the Independent Combine realized its mistake and protested. Laban Jackson, president of the Council, postponed the election.

While the postponement was evidently made with a view toward a fair election, this action was a credit neither to the students nor to the University. Because this action was comprehended but by a few, The Kernel is disclosing the entire matter to the students.

It is regrettable that a situation exists in which constant turmoil is caused over elections. The Kernel suggests that the Men's Student Council immediately establish a permanent mode of nominating and electing campus officers,—a mode whereby it would be necessary to conform with existing regulations, rather than periodically establishing regulations to conform with existing political ambitions.

Phi Beta Kappa
Will Induct New Members Friday

Doctor Leland, University of Chicago, Slated For
Main Address

Induction services and a banquet for the 16 initiates of the Kentucky chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, will be held Friday night in the Lafayette hotel with Dr. Simeon E. Leland, professor of economics, University of Chicago, and a former University faculty member, as guest speaker.

One of the initiates is Mrs. John O. Pyle Jr., formerly Miss Betty Moffett, a graduate of the University in June, 1936. A confusion of records caused Mrs. Pyle to be passed over in the 1936 selection of Phi Beta Kappa.

Dr. Richard A. Foster, head of the department of English at Ohio State University, a graduate of the University in the class of '16, will also be initiated.

Students who will become members of Phi Beta Kappa are: Lucille Gaines Baugh, Winchester; Ernest Benton Brown, Morton's Gap; John S. Chambers, Lexington; Bettie Gilbert, Lawrenceburg; Thomas J. Holbrook, Bedford; Bettie Julia Mitchell, Portsmouth, Ohio; Ike M. Moore, Lexington; Theodora Nadelstein, New York City; David Randall, Lexington; Mary Shraberg, Lexington; John B. Spragens, Lebanon; Walter Thomas, Ashland; Ruth Weatherford, Mumfordsville; and Dorothy Whalen, Lexington.

Guignol To Hold
Laboratory Plays

Group Will Consist Of Three Plays And Is Second
In Series

With all patrons of the Guignol Theatre invited to attend, the second group in the series of Guignol Laboratory plays will be given at 8:30 o'clock, Wednesday night, May 5.

The group will consist of three one-act plays to be directed by Mrs. Opal Palmer, Mrs. Minna Bloomfield, and Prof. George White Fithian, of the University department of English, all former Guignol players.

Students and townspeople who are cast in the productions are: Milton Rosenbloom, Mary Lou Dixon, Frank Ellis, Bob Tischer, Mrs. Frieda Roos, Edward Munich, Bill Tudor, Lee Allen Helme, Mary Ann Stilz, Eleanor Rankin, Marge Reagan, Ed Buckley, and Clarence Geiger.

This series of laboratory plays serves as a training department for people interested in dramatics and serves a dual purpose by giving more students with the ability to act opportunities along this line, and by developing talent for future Guignol productions.

PERSHING RIFLES
LEAVE THURSDAY

Skilled Drillers Complete Five Months' Training Program;
Illinois Site Of Competition;
Confederate Unit Featured

Thirty-five members of Pershing Rifles, under the command of cadet Col. Robert L. Stivers, will leave Thursday afternoon for the University of Illinois at Champaign where they will compete. Friday night, in a drill meet with companies from eight other universities.

Col. B. E. Brewer, on his arrival at the University to take command of the local R. O. T. C. unit, ordered participation in the meet, and the Kentucky company has won the event for the last five years.

The men started drilling last fall, and since then have drilled for one hour three nights a week in preparation for the meet. During the past few weeks, under the supervision of Major Irvine Souder, who is directing the company for the third year, they have increased the number of drills to five a week.

A feature of the meet at Champaign will be an individual drill competition on Saturday morning in which men from each university will take part. Kentucky has won this event for the last two years, Harry Bullock having won in 1935 and Arthur Plummer in 1936. William Boaz, Frank Davis, and Wiek-liss Hendry have been selected to compete this year. First and second-place medals will be awarded.

The Confederate squad which has been organized, with appointments authentic in every detail to those used in the War Between the States, will give a 15-minute exhibition at the meet, under the command of Harry Bullock.

Three army officers will judge the drills on Friday and Saturday. Other universities represented in the meet will be Ohio State, Dayton, Akron, Cincinnati, Indiana, Western Kentucky State Teachers College, Illinois, and Michigan State.

Assisting Stivers in the command of the company will be David L. Planders, first lieutenant; Harry E. Bullock and Richard H. Butler, second lieutenants.

About 40 other students, in addition to the Pershing Rifles and R. O. T. C. officers, will make the trip. The local unit will leave by bus Thursday afternoon and will return Sunday night.

FILSON CLUB HEARS
DR. THOMAS CLARK

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, assistant professor of history, discussed "Salt As a Factor in Early Kentucky Industry" at a meeting last night of the Filson club in Louisville.

Doctor Clark had contributed previously to the Filson club's magazine and now has in press "A History of Kentucky," a volume of 650 pages.

Fraternity Combine Nets Five

NICHOLS WINS THRONE

Su Ky Announces Complete
Program Of May Day
Festivities

By GEORGE KERLER

In a balloting battle bordering on the verge of turmoil as the voting dead line approached, Chi Omega Dorothy Nichols was elected May Queen by the men students yesterday in the annual May Day election held in the Administration building.

Helen Farmer, Alpha Gamma Delta, was chosen maid of honor and Irene Sparks, Kappa Delta; Susan Anderson, Delta Delta Delta; Emily Quigley, Chi Omega, and Eleanor Randolph, Kappa Delta, will serve as the queen's attendants.

More than 700 men stormed the voting scene during the day. As the minutes fled by politicians swarmed over the campus corraling every available male who had not visited the polls.

By 3:30 p. m. the unbridled mob, urged by pleading sorority politicians, milled around the voting booth trying to place its selections.

To combat this disorder, Student Council President Laban Jackson rallied a few council members and R. O. T. C. men who succeeded in blocking and policing the ballot table and who restored discipline which enabled Messrs. James Anderson, Richard Butler, and John McKinney, commanding the identification and polling situations, to proceed untrampled.

Miss Nichols, Fraternity Combine, tallied 432 votes against the Independent Combine's candidate, Helen Farmer, 395. The four attendants polled the following: Irene Sparks, 299; Susan Anderson, 258; Emily Quigley, 254; and Eleanor Randolph, 233. All attendants are members of the Fraternity Combine.

The Student Council made its usual attempt to keep voting irregularities at a minimum. There were no vulgar infractions committed during the day.

May Day program was released yesterday by Su Ky, the organization in charge of affairs May 7.

General convocation will be held at 11 a. m. in Memorial hall, where several honoraries will hold pledging ceremonies.

The parade, composed of fraternity and individual floats, will start at 2 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded to the best individual float and to the best fraternity and sorority four-wheel fancy. Girls' floats will (Continued on Page Four)

The A. W. S. Council will meet at 5 p. m. Wednesday in the A. W. S. office, although the meeting was previously postponed. All council members are urged to bring the money they have collected from ticket sales for the mothers' banquet.

There will be an important Stroller meeting at 4 p. m. today in Room 203, Administration building.

Sigma Pi Sigma's annual spring picnic will be held Wednesday afternoon at the reservoir. The party will leave from the Physics building at 3 o'clock.

A meeting of the stamp collecting group will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in Alumni hall. All persons interested are welcome to meet with the group.

A hike and wiener roast for all members of the Y. W. C. A. Junior round table will be held this afternoon. Members are asked to meet at the Woman's building unless there is rain.

All students interested in a radio group are requested to meet in the "Y" rooms at 8 p. m. tonight. The group will be sponsored by Dr. Hahn of the physics department.

Officers of the Bacteriological Society will be elected at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Kastle hall. All members are urged to attend.

Students are invited to attend the annual Phi Beta Kappa banquet, the cost of which will be one dollar a plate. Reservations should be made with Prof. Niel Plummer, secretary of the Kentucky chapter, before Friday noon. Initiation services will be held at 5:30 p. m. and the banquet at 8:30 o'clock at the Lafayette hotel.

The plan itself will be an attempt to tie up more closely the gap between the high school and the university or college. Under it, it is hoped that by combining the last two years of high school and the first two years of college, this long and disjointed step will be materially articulated.

Friends of higher learning, therefore, are looking with some optimism toward the University of Chicago as one of the first tenets of its new plan as it goes into effect. In September, what heretofore has been pure theory will become actual practice.

The plan itself will be an attempt to tie up more closely the gap between the high school and the university or college. Under it, it is hoped that by combining the last two years of high school and the first two years of college, this long and disjointed step will be materially articulated.

This is just the first of what Doctor Hutchins promises for education. If there were more Hutchins in the educational world we could feel more optimistic for the future of American higher learning and culture.

Need For CCC Is Shown

It is hoped that Congress will react favorably toward the bill now before it, purporting to continue the program of the Civilian Conservation Corps. To stop the service of this national body would be to turn deaf ear to the interests of present and future generations and defer our nation-wide development.

The Civilian Conservation Corps, generally spoken of as CCC, was organized in 1933 for the purpose of providing employment. Its vision was to meet the needs of unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 25 for material and spiritual sustenance. These men were to be paid $30 each month with the understanding that from this amount $25 would go to their parents. Clothes and food were furnished free; libraries were provided, athletic groups organized, and opportunity for church worship were opened to each unit.

Each year an average of two hundred million young trees have been planted covering an area of more than 200,000 acres. This planting has been of multiple value. Aside from conservation it has served as an erosion check, a means of flood control, and a protection for water sheds. A project was inaugurated in which it was planned to criss-cross the Western plains with a series of tree belts serving as wind breaks and tending to hold the top soil which was being carried away as dust storms. The idea was ridiculed and discouraged on the grounds that trees would not grow in such areas. Today seven million young trees testify to the wisdom of the plan, seven million young trees, an average of 540 to the acre, serving as wind breaks, factors in flood control, top soil retainers, and potential timber resources.

Annual loss from forest fires is estimated at $53,000,000, and the burning over of forty-one million acres of land. CCC has made possible enormous fire control work. Three thousand fire lookout stations have been erected near dangerous sections. In 1936 a total of 800,000 work days had been spent in fighting forest fires. Seven million acres of timber was saved.

Not only have programs of conservation, reforestation, and fire control been organized: there is the presence of scientific effort to improve quality of timber tracks, rate of growth, and composition. Silviculturalists say that treatment of both pine and hardwood forests will increase the timber value 250 per cent.

CCC's value to the nation does not end here: many camp units are engaged in rodent control, centering their efforts on grazing lands rented out by United States Forest Service. These rodents, consisting of moles, ground squirrels, and other burrowing creatures, make thousands of acres of grazing land worthless.

Remote sections of the country have witnessed the building of 87,000 miles of much needed roads and truck trails; the erection of nearly 50,000 miles of telephone lines; the beautification of highways, topographical improvement of thousands of camp sites, and among many other things the building of substantial bridges and "short cuts" in rural districts.

Apart from its contribution to the economic wealth of the country, CCC has turned hundreds of thousands of semi-criminal hitchhikers into self-reliant, resourceful, ambitious, and industrious young men of America. It has taught these young men initiative. It has given them confidence in themselves. It has inevitably increased the moral standards of future generations.

Need for CCC as a means of employment has passed, but the forcefulness with which it has demonstrated its service to America has made it difficult to conceive how the nation could afford to dispense with it. May Congress find that conception too difficult to entertain!

Scrap Irony

By HARRY WILLIAMS

Just because May is here and the semester is drawing rapidly to a close is no reason for creditors and tradespeople to come haggling at your very doorstep. It brings to mind what once we heard a friend tell a worried store keeper, "Listen Shylock, I put all my bills in a basket on the first of the month, I draw one out, and that's the one I pay. Now if you don't stop bothering me I won't even put your bill in the basket!"

The article that appeared in last month's College Humor entitled "Girls Are Bum Sports" has caused no end of argument on the campus. We heard it being re-hashed in the Commons the other day; two Tri-Delts were doing their best to out-point an SAE. The female of the species seemed to be getting the worst of things and finally one of them said, "It's a silly question anyway, let's quit talking about it." Does this prove anything?

Overheard in the Kernel news room: "Well I think they should convict him, look at the headline you could write, THE GENERAL DIES AT DAWN."

Well done, thou good and faithful servant, the high school students were favorably impressed. We saw a group of the yearlings staring open-mouthed at the regimental parade. We also saw a group of them horizontally open-mouthed in the Canary Cottage. Oh, they got the idea of college life all right!

The Independent Combine's proposed coup d'etat fell through. They decided to meet the Fraternity organization on an equal basis. We all know that both groups are noted for their clean-cut tactics and open-above-board coercion.

The May Day floats are to make their debut next Friday. They will be judged by faculty members and down-town business men according to their originality and humorosity. We wonder if their sense of humor is as well developed as the float-makers? The ATOs will remember last year!

And as for Suky's "name band," it might just as well have had a number. We have never heard of it, have you?

This Campus
and
That World

By RALPH E. JOHNSON

TODAY I am happy all over again! Herewith I shall print my reasons for being happy—a letter from one who chooses to be known as "R. M. R." but who actually is Robert M. Rankin, of Dayton, Ky. I elect to divulge his name because there will be ever so many of the "201" who will wish to congratulate this gentleman on his literary effort. I also choose to publicize his name because any one who takes it upon himself to send a letter to the editor blasting away at me in an attempt to wither me into oblivion must come out in the open to do so.

Now I got through that letter and point out numerous biased and egotistical statements such as: "the one that every member in Lances is outstanding on the campus, but I won't, for this audience is quite capable of doing its own thinking."

This letter was addressed to the editor, who very graciously turned the missive, or shall we say missile, (just to be funny—hal hal) over to me. Attached to the letter was a note which requested, "Could this letter go in just as it is written, just for the hell of it? If you can't print it without having my full name, why let me know I will gladly sign it."—R. M. R.—a recent Lances initiate.

And so, Bob, I will print it for you—just as it is. I shall carefully read it against copy in order that your very words shall go down in print and history. So that when you're a senior you will realize how hopeless you were as a sophomore, so that when you are a senior and are better than I am you will be able to look back and see how far you have come. And they say there is no such thing as evolution! "Dear Mr. Editor: 'I would like to take this opportunity to answer dear Mr. Johnson, for his criticism of the junior honorary fraternity, Lances, and other campus honoraries. It seems to me that although Mr. Johnson claims to be a journalist, he lacks the profession's fundamental requirement—the power of close observation. He claimed that the Lances organization did not mean a thing to 99 percent of the juniors; if he had observed the affair more closely he would have seen that all the juniors in the ceremony were the ones responsible for the dance itself. Not only that, but everyone of the boys in the fraternity are outstanding on the campus. In fact, dear Mr. Johnson might not have even got a bid to the dance or had any dance to go to if these 'social parasites,' as he calls them, had not helped get the dance up. And another thing, he wanted to do away with all the ceremony, well there were quite a few there—especially those who had not attended the dances regularly that enjoyed the ceremonies. If you want to do away with ceremonies and such things, Mr. Johnson, why don't you take a correspondence course and not go to affections and become linked with the Kappa Alpha lock.

To these new heartinesses, this column gives a cannonade of congratulations. . . .

For your haberdashery edification don't forget the Sour Mash Esquire Style Show which will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Memorial hall. No entrance tariff, free entertainment and free CIGARETTES. Men only!

Elementary Schools
Will Open Festival

Approximately 800 city elementary school children will participate in the annual elementary school music festival program at 8 p. m. tonight in Alumni gym. The program is intended to show a variety of music which is carried on in those schools.

Outstanding events included will be presentations by a fifth and sixth grade chorus of 600 children, a second grade chorus of 200 children, the all-city elementary school orchestra, the all-city elementary school band, the harmonica band, the saxette band, and a rhythm band of the first grade of Miss Irma Bishop at Ashland school.

Under the direction of Paul W. Mathews, supervisor of music of the city schools, Mrs. Charles E. Skinner, Miss Gemma Howard, and Clare E. Grundman, the festival is made possible through the cooperation of the principals and teachers of all the schools.

Thousands of poems are written each year by Dr. Arthur B. Crozier, professor of accountancy and secretarial work at the University of Mississippi. Since last September, he has composed 1,500 pieces of rhyme—but not without reason, we hope!

Student elections—Phooeeey.

Back to things more mundane. Custom was routed at the Silep epilepsy when Wanda Strong strutted onto the swayground clad in night gown under a gaudy negligee. No riots occurred which proves the patrons were not astonished. Perhaps they didn't notice. But certainly, in comparison with some of the scanty revealing garb the coeds flash around here, Miss Strong might have been considered heavily clothed.

Two former campus idols roared into town Saturday. Joe Quinn and Jack Crain greeted more people and unwillingly tossed down more solutions offered by flattering crowds than an average man could withstand.

Quinn was embraced by the athletic department, chiefly Stan Nevens whose publicity volumes have been unworried since the Quinn Era. Joe works on the Cincy Post at an enviable salary for a rookie just starting up the ladder.

Hill-billy Crain signaled his arriving at the dance by spying Breathitt beauty Opal Hobbs. He picked up the mountain-minny, flung her to the ceiling, caught her, and riveted a kiss that melted the surrounding acres of waxed floor.

The love bug was rampant last week. Five couples succumbed to the wonderousness of romance.

Phi Tau Bobby Coleman, ping-pongist and saxophonist, has lunged his fraternity label on Alfagum Mary Helen Barrett.

Alice Howry now has two hearts, one of which pines for Benny Howard and a SigEp black heart which announces her yearning has been rewarded.

More proof of the Sigma Nu penchant for Alphagums. C. B. Marcum's white star lights the way for Robbie Payne.

She stood him up on their first date but then he successfully engineered the second and third and now KapDee Betsy May wears the Delt symbol of Glenn Carl.

For the last one, hold your hat. Two of the most popular folks in school, Ohio Betty Jackson and KA Jack Shanklin decided to eliminate all contenders for their respective college any more—it might do away with all the trouble of college tradition and not interfere with your education so much.

"You say social parasites eh, well this campus must be in a bad way then as nearly everything on it is run by, what you call, social parasites, in fact your immediate boss, the managing editor of the Kernel, was the outstanding social parasite in the Lances pledging."

"Even at that I think I'd rather be called a social parasite than a 'sour grape artist.' The only remedy to such a case as yours, that I can see, is for you to quit writing This Campus and That World, and instead leave This Campus and join That World. You've griped about every institution on this campus ever since you've started writing (maybe you're hard up for copy—I hope I don't get that hard up for copy when I become a senior).

"You will probably wither this feeble rector with a deluge of your fine intellectual terms, but even at that I hope I'm better off when I become a senior than you are now, for all your intellectual, or should I say, sophisticated manner."

"Sincerely yours,

"R. M. R."

"P. S. Pardon another suggestion, but why don't you read Dale Carnegie's book on 'How to Win Friends and Influence People,' or is Carnegie to be criticised too."

Seeing Sport Sturf

By TOM WATKINS
Kernel Sports Editor

KENTUCKY'S undefeated track team turned in another victory Saturday afternoon at the expense of Coach Blair Gullion's thinlins from the University of Tennessee. The Volunteer cinder artists, striving for a revenge victory, to offset the defeat of Tennessee's basketballers in the Southeastern conference tourney by the Wildcats, failed to take Coach Striplin's men in tow, but certainly pushed them in several events. Ralph Carlisle, Wildcat broad jumper, exceeded his previous meet tallies and soared over 22 feet in the broad jump event, to outdistance Tennessee's George Hunter, who jumped 21 feet 7 inches. Hunter, who also serves as a star end on the Volunteer eleven, is a Kentucky boy, and hails from Somerset, Tennessee took the mile relay, with Pick, star anchor man, breaking the tape far in advance of Kentucky's Hilliard.

Two alumni of the University who have had considerable experience at former Kentucky track meets were interested spectators in Saturday's gallery. They were Joe Quinn, sports scribe, and Doug Parrish, a former cinder star, who is now an advocate of the glory of agriculture. Joe Quinn, former sports editor of The Kernel, preceded your present columnist. He is at present a member of the sports staff of the Cincinnati Post, and this column takes this opportunity to wish him all future success. Doug Parrish is a former captain of the Wildcat track team, and set a Southeastern conference record in hurdles in his heyday. He was the successor of Shipwreck Kelley as the star of the track squad, and was also a member of the Wildcat gridiron squad.

Badminton, enjoying its initial season on the campus, is one of the most popular of all intramural sports. The game of the racquet and shuttlecock, one of the most baffling of all sports, not only requires speed and stamina, but a good eye, and speedy accurate judgment. Among the best badminton players on the campus are some of the tennis squad, but this is not always the case. Badminton is much more deceptive, if possible, than tennis, and is hard for even the most seasoned netman.

TENNIS TEAM

Walter Botts and Oscar Wisner all exhibited excellent tennis and should be hard to defeat in the future matches.

The results of the Sewanee match played Saturday which Kentucky won 7-2 are as follows:

Singles

- No. 1 Shelton (S) defeated Donohue (K) 6-1, 8-6.
- No. 2 Guerry (S) defeated Englehardt (K) 6-3, 6-2.
- No. 3 Evans (K) defeated Cravens (S) 6-1, 6-4.
- No. 4 Montgomery (K) defeated Crook (S) 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.
- No. 5 Botts (K) defeated Brown (S) 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.
- No. 6 Wisner (K) defeated Packer (S) 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles

- No. 1 Donohue and Evans (K) defeated Shelton and Guerry (S) 6-4, 9-7.
- No. 2 Englehardt and Wisner (K) defeated Crook and Cravens (S) 6-3, 6-4.
- No. 3 Botts and Montgomery (K) defeated Brown and Packer (S) 6-3, 6-3.

Rural Life Program Broadcast Sunday

Commemorating Rural Life in Kentucky, a special radio broadcast with Frederick A. Wallis, state commissioner of public welfare, as guest speaker was given Sunday from Memorial hall over radio stations WHAS and WLAP.

Dr. Walter V. Cropper, Lexington, president of the Kentucky Rural church council, presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Wallis. Also on the program were the University choristers under the direction of Miss Mildred Lewis.

Rural Life Sunday is observed for the purpose of strengthening understanding of the problems of the farm people and promoting the conception of religion as underlying rural life.

BRODE TO ADDRESS SIGMA XI BANQUET

Dr. Wallace R. Brode, Columbus, O., professor of chemistry at Ohio State University, and a member of the Harvard expedition to Russia last year to study the solar eclipse, will be the principal speaker at the annual spring banquet of the Kentucky chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society, at 7 o'clock Saturday, May 15, at the Phoenix hotel. His subject will be "The Solar Eclipse."

Dr. Stalle Erickson, head of the department of home economics, and president of the Kentucky chapter of the organization, will preside at the banquet.

ANDERSON CHOSEN FOR JOB

Millard "Andy" Anderson, former University basketball captain and leader of an orchestra, has been chosen as a representative of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company. It was announced Saturday by Lloyd B. Averitt, general agent for the company.

Professor Elliott's contribution to the state schools includes schools in Fayette, Pulaski, Scott, Jefferson, Fulton, Henderson, and Butler counties.

SECOND BATTALION WINS PARADE DRILL

In the second regimental parade of the year the second battalion, commanded by cadet Lieut.-Col. Gene Myers, Friday won first place in the battalion competition.

Company G, commanded by cadet Capt. Earl Martin, was adjudged the winner in company competition, with Company B, under the command of cadet Capt. Charles Saunders, finishing second. Company B's first platoon, commanded by cadet Lieut. John McKenney, was adjudged winner of the platoon "best line" drill.

TEAM WINS STOCK JUDGING CONTEST

First place in the Southeastern livestock-judging contest, held last week at Knoxville, was won by a team representing the College of Agriculture.

Trained by Prof. L. J. Horlacher, the team rolled up a lead of sixty points over the nearest competitor, Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Members of the Kentucky team were Harlan Veal, Fayette county; Thomas Culton, Boyle county; and George Kruz, Garrard county.

The contest, held annually to encourage interest in animal husbandry and proficiency in stock judging, will be held in 1938 here.

PITKIN CLUB SLATES HAY RIDE

Members of the Pitkin club will hold their annual hay ride and picnic Thursday evening, May 6. The group plans to leave at about 5:30 and drive to Grime's Mill. Fifty to seventy-five members are expected to attend.

GOLFERS LOSE THIRD AWAY FROM HOME TILT TO DAYTON BY 15 POINTS

The Wildcat golf team lost their third out of town game of the season when they bowed to the crack Dayton University foursome, 18½ to 1½, in a match played Saturday afternoon in Dayton, Ohio.

Though the loss was not a surprise, the Kentucky boys had expected to give a much better showing than they did. The Dayton school has one of the best inter-collegiate golf teams in the country and has not been defeated by a Kentucky team since the two schools have been meeting on the links.

Jack Mohney, playing number one man for the Cats, garnered one point when he defeated his opponent on the first nine. The other ½ point was gained by he and Captain Robert Thaxton playing as partners in one of the foursome matches.

The divot diggers will play two matches this week. Tomorrow the Wildcats will go to Cincinnati to meet the University of Cincinnati. The Blue and White team defeated the Bearcats last week in a match played here, and hope to break their out of town flinx by repeating against the Cincy team.

The University of Tennessee, which was victorious in an earlier meeting with the Cats in Knoxville, will give the University boys a chance for revenge when the Vols come here Saturday to play a return match on the Ashland golf course.

The same team, composed of Jack Mohney at the number one post, Bain Smith at number two position, Bill Adams as number three man, and Bob Thaxton playing at number four, will compose the team that will go to Cincinnati to meet the Bearcats.

GARDEN GROUPS TO MEET MAY 18

George Siebenthaler, Landscape Architect, Will Be Leading Speaker At One Day Conclave

George Siebenthaler, Dayton, Ohio, known as one of the best-informed landscape architects in the central part of the United States, will be the principal speaker at the ninth annual Garden Day to be held on the campus Tuesday, May 18, under the joint auspices of the Garden club of Lexington, the Fayette Rose and Garden club, and the University botanic garden committee.

Opening at 10:30 a. m., the program will include a demonstration by Prof. N. R. Elliott, of the College of Agriculture, and a showing of "Technique of Budding and Grafting," by Prof. C. S. Waltman, assistant professor of horticulture, after which Prof. A. J. Olney, head of the department of horticulture, will discuss "Soil and Soil Treatment."

Mr. Siebenthaler will lead a round-table discussion at 11:45 a. m. on "New Flowers and Ornamentals," and at 1 p. m. luncheon will be served in the Commons.

At 2:15 p. m. Mr. Siebenthaler will give an illustrated lecture on "European Gardens," following which there will be a trip through the Botanical Gardens and tea at Maxwell Place, with Pres. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey as hosts.

Mr. Siebenthaler is a graduate of Cornell University and received the American scholarship for a year's study abroad after his graduation. He spent the year at Rome, Italy, and in Suffolk, England, and for the last four years has been in business in and near Dayton.

Louisville Dairymen Will Be Honored

Emil Von Allman, Louisville, will be honored by members of the University Dairy club at a banquet at 6:30 p. m. tonight in the Commons. David Pettus, president of the club, will preside.

Every year the Dairy club honors a man in the Kentucky dairy industry who has devoted his life's work for the improvement of the industry. This year a man from the manufacturing end of the milk products was chosen. His photograph will be autographed at the banquet, and Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture will accept the picture for the College from the Dairy club.

All students who are majoring in dairying and those who expect summer jobs in creameries are expected to attend the banquet. Representatives from creameries in Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Evansville, Nashville, Lexington and others will be present.

SCOUT FRATERNITY

Officers of Omega Phi Alpha, scout service fraternity, were elected.
